To become licensed, Heidel was required to complete 3,740 hours of work experience and pass seven nationally administered Architect Registration exams along with a California supplemental exam. For Heidel, this achievement is the culmination of a process that started eight years ago when he began his college studies.

Heidel began working with WRD Architects last July and has already supported two major projects for the County of Monterey.

He is a member of the Monterey chapter of The American Institute of Architects and is excited to have more time for mountain biking and volunteering with Habitat for Humanity.

Heidel received his master's degree from the University of Louisiana in Lafayette and his bachelor's degree from the NewSchool of Architecture + Design in San Diego.
