

Project manager brings two decades of expertise to firm

MEDIA INQUIRIES: JENNA TYNDALL, MARKETING AND PUBLIC RELATIONS DIRECTOR, JENNA@WRDARCH.COM, 2340 GARDEN ROAD, STE. 100, MONTEREY, CA 93940, 831-649-4642, WWW.WRDARCH.COM

Monterey: With more than 20 years of architectural experience, Ryan Cornelsen joins Wald, Ruhnke & Dost Architects as the full-service firm's newest project manager.

A graduate from Oregon State University, Cornelsen has a passion for sustainability and designs that directly benefit both building owners and the larger Central Coast community. His prior experience includes work with agriculture, affordable housing, universities, commercial, residential, restaurants and hotel clients. Cornelsen's background is well suited to meet the project management and design needs of Wald, Ruhnke & Dost's diverse clients.

"Cornelsen brings tremendous experience but also a uniquely thoughtful and insightful approach to architecture that will help our clients realize their project goals," said Principal Christopher Barlow.

With deep roots in Salinas, Cornelsen is on the Board of Directors for the Toro Softball League and the Board of Elders for Salinas Valley Community Church. He is a former Director of Associates for Monterey Bay's American Institute of Architects. The Salinas High alum has also completed a triathlon each year since 2001.

About WRD Architects

Wald, Ruhnke & Dost Architects, LLP is a full-service architecture firm serving California's Central Coast with an extensive portfolio of commercial, agricultural, healthcare, education, public works, residential, and interior design projects developed over more than 50 years. As a leader in green construction and sustainable practices, WRD creates buildings that are designed to enhance productivity and well-being while making positive impacts on the larger community.